Dear Michael:

Thank you for facilitating and leading a team building workshop with the Alumni Board of Directors at Centennial College. Your presentation supported the group in determining need and exploring strategies for change.

Michael, you can best be described as a thoughtful, interesting and dynamic speaker. You present meaningful information that challenges, supports and enhances the development of team identity and collective growth in organizations. Your objective approach and theoretic perspective offered this group the opportunity to evaluate their effectiveness; develop a vision; and explore strategies that would respond to structural and operational issues. You examined the role of interpersonal relationships in group dynamics as they are impacted by power using non-threatening and concrete situations.

Michael, you have contributed to this board's growth and development. You have helped us begin to reflect and evaluate our effectiveness. We have been empowered to challenge the barriers that have affected our functioning and have begun to explore operational strategies that will increase our volunteer activity. You have motivated this group into action.

Thank you Michael for your insight and enthusiasm. We look forward to an ongoing relationship with you.

Respectfully yours,

Pauline Camuti-Cull
