Dear Michael:

Thank you, Michael - we needed to hear your message! I am fortunate that this is the third time I have had the opportunity to be in your audience. You have a message with "meat" that really works for those of us in the Financial Products market, or for anyone who deals with people.

Staying focused and productive in order to achieve outstanding results is indeed the workplace issue of this decade. At a time where many people confuse busy with productive, taking the time to work through your "Four Quadrants" produces strong results. Your session and the information you shared was very timely and easy to use. Most importantly, it works!

Thanks again for an enlightening session. I look forward to when I next get to hear you speak!

All the best for another great year!

Regards
